

Helping your child settle at nursery

Here are a few things you can do to help your child during their first few days at nursery.

- Remind your child about the lovely adults in the nursery and their names.

- Show your child how to self-register.

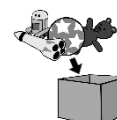

- Teach your child how to take off their coat and hang it on their peg.

- Show your child the toilets and where to wash their hands. Then support them to use these areas independently.

- Explain they can play with anything but when they have finished they must put things away.

- Play with your child and show them how to use the resources.

- Ensure your child walks indoors and uses a quiet voice indoors.

Thank-you for your support.
